

If I had not participated in this job training, I would have worked in Toyota factory, or stay in Australia for about a year with working holiday visa. After obtaining a lot of money, I had a plan to travel to some mysterious countries such as Republic of Belarus, Mordovia, Albania.

Before applying to this job training, I was very anxious about what to do in the future. Thinking many times let me down. I was about to apply to working holiday visa for Australia because we get it very easily and quickly on internet. However, I happened to find an advertisement of this job training on internet too.

For the purpose of passing the exam for this job training, I studied mainly mathematics many times.

When I knew that I passed the exam for this job training, I was pleased and relieved very much because I did not think that I was given one more chance to study English for business.

In fact, last year I came back to Japan from Singapore because of very bad agent. I think, however, this hard experience is no failure. It reminds me of that speaking English very well is not special but essential for business. If I had stayed in Japan as ever, I would not know it.

I think that we can learn the skills of English, Word, Excel, presentation, thinking and logically in this job training. All of them are essential for business.

After graduating from this job training, we must learn something in addition to them thorough our job too.

What I want to deliver in this presentation is “we had better have ambition for good” “Have ambition for good” Japanese legend football player, Hidetoshi Nakata said.

I keep it mind. If I had not had it, I would have realized this fact.

I’m sure that in addition to them we can enhance other skills too. But if we have no ambition, we never can do it.

The effort you’ve done make your dreams come true. Magnificent future will come to you by soon, I’m sure.
